We recruit the best students from across the country and provide them with the best possible learning experience. We cultivate a distinctive competitive advantage by focusing on individual needs. Our size and focus gives us the ability to interact with students, alumni and recruiters on a personal level. Recognizing that students come to SGT University with many different backgrounds, we seek to provide the highest-quality learning experience by tailoring the academic experience to individual student development. Our favorable faculty-to-student ratio promotes a close-knit community with exceptional access to faculty and staff. We couple our high levels of access with a modular curriculum, "point-of-need" learning and immersive experiences that deliver broad coverage of the most important subjects, while providing the opportunity for students to explore areas of interest in depth. Our 'personal-scale' advantage extends beyond graduation, as we support our alumni throughout their careers.

Our personal-scale approach allows us to refine each student's leadership skills through individual assessments, personal reflection, informed feedback, coaching and leadership experiences. Our scale also offers many more leadership roles per student than larger competitors, providing students the opportunity to practice and receive guidance on effective leadership. We believe our approach transforms students, making them better leaders of teams, organizations and industries.

Our strategic array of programs, offered by 18 faculties, strengthen the breadth, depth, reach and responsiveness of our university. Our portfolio of programs serves a broad audience by addressing education needs at various stages of the career. Further, through our portfolio, we offer deeper expertise across our programs than any one program alone could support. The variety of programs also makes it possible for SGT University to impact society better and impact more industries and corporate partners too. We believe that our ability to develop and implement new programs provides us the opportunity to capitalize on changing market needs.

We, at SGT University, continue to believe that it is the thirst for new insights that produces high-impact research and creates an environment where faculty inspire students to look beyond simple answers, instilling the wonder and excitement of discovery. FACULTY OF AGRICULTURAL SCIENCES

India requires globally competitive and better trained agricultural human resource capital in agriculture to feed 18 percent of the world's population with 2.3 percent of the world's land and about 4 percent of the fresh water. The establishment of State Agricultural Universities (SAUs) in the 1950s helped usher the Green Revolution, followed by White, Yellow, and Blue Revolutions mainly due to trained human resources. However, the country is still home to almost 1/4th of the world's hungry and poor. The Agriculture sector is facing serious shortage of trained quality human resources. Respecting the national and global aspirations, the Faculty of Agricultural Sciences (FASC) at SGT University was established in the academic session 2016-17 awarding undergraduate and postgraduate (with research work) degrees.

Vision

To be a preferred destination of agricultural sciences teaching, research and extension to produce locally and globally competitive human resource capital and science led knowledge pool of technologies and agribusiness modules for achieving rainbow revolution and sustainable food, nutrition and livelihood security.

Mission

(i) To create and develop skilled, talented and entrepreneurial human resources and knowledge pool of agriculture technologies.
(ii) To prepare graduates with learning centred education to achieve high quality of products in order to create farmers' profitability and zero environmental footprint ensuring sustainable agriculture in changing climatic scenario.
(iii) To develop leadership in agricultural sciences to ensure economic attractiveness, global competitiveness, social equity, environmental sustainability and food, and nutritional security.

Faculty Strength

The Faculty of Agricultural Sciences has following core strengths:

(i) Teaching Faculty: All the faculty members are well qualified having Ph.D. degree with rich experience in teaching, research and extension. Many teachers have international exposure and fellowship of National Science Academies and other professional societies.

(ii) Research and Innovation: Students are encouraged to be involved in research and innovation with the faculty. Our undergraduate students published research papers in Scopus indexed journals.

(iii) Internship: The FASC has tie-ups with national / international universities, organizations and agribusiness houses to provide internship to our undergraduates like University of Queensland, Australia; Harper Adams University, Newport, UK; ICAR-CSSRI, Karnal; Agricultural and Processed Food Products Export Development Authority (APEDA), National Institute of Plant Biotechnology (NIPB), IARI Campus, National Seeds Corporation Limited (NSC), Earth Analytics India etc.

(iv) Mentor-Mentee System: In this unique system, the progress of students is closely monitored. A small group of students is attached with a faculty member, who acts as their mentor/ tutor/ local guardian. The teacher closely follows his students' academic performance, remains in touch with their parents, solve daily problems/ issues and monitor overall academic performance and development of the student.

(v) Educational Tours: Each class is taken to agriculture and farmers' fairs, reputed institutions/ universities, public and private companies in agriculture production, marketing etc. and institutional seminar/ symposia etc. to provide exposure to modern agriculture technologies.

(vi) Seminar/Workshop/expert lecture: The faculty organizes national/ international seminars/ workshop and expert guest lectures on subject matter, entrepreneurship development, employment opportunities, communication skills etc.

Why a particular course at SGT University?

The Faculty of Agricultural Sciences at SGT University is equipped with world class infrastructure for teaching and research with more than 20 hectares of agricultural land for practical demonstration and research along with skill and entrepreneurship development modules in place. Corporate Resource Centre
Internships Placements

At the Corporate Resource Centre, we have embarked upon an "out of the box" approach to establishing greater, enduring and synergistic industry linkages. Moreover, the traditional push strategy and a pull component have been duly incorporated wherein we will commence asking corporate, industry practitioners and corporate leaders to partner with us for the long haul. Apart from usual support of conducting image management classes, aptitude building classes and GD-Presentation, following are our on-going special initiative:

1. HOST A JOB SHADOW
2. INFORMATIONAL INTERVIEW
3. CREATE AN EXTERNSHIP
4. BE AN EMPLOYER IN RESIDENCE
5. BE A MENTOR
6. WANT TO BE FEATURE ON OUR BLOG
7. ENCOURAGE OUR STUDENTS TO ON-SITE VISIT
8. CAREER FAIR
9. INFORMATION SESSION TO STUDENTS
10. INTERVIEW STUDENTS ON CAMPUS
11. TUTELAGE

Job Shadow

Employers can play a significant role in helping young people to discover the world of work. Job shadowing allows a student to spend a few hours (2-8) or a full day (6-8) with a professional working in the student's area of career interest. The student has the opportunity to experience the job first-hand what the job is like and can establish the confidence to seek informed questions. This type of experiential learning can help students to determine early on in their college career if they are on the right path.

Informational Interviews

Similarly, informational interviews is a great way to help our students understand the world of work, careers, and employers. Informational interviews involve and allow a student to interview a professional about his/her work and career journey. The time commitment is minimal, 30-45 minutes. Some of the information students want to learn about includes career roadmap to the corporate leader's current position, a typical day for the corporate leader, the joys and challenges of his/her job, any recommendations that the corporate leader may have for someone working to pursue employment in the field, and the culture of his/her organization.

Externships

Through externships, which are training programs related to an area of academics or career interests that aim to give participants practical experiences in their area of interest. Externships are similar to internships; however, they tend to be shorter in duration, usually only a few days or a couple of weeks, and involve a combination of shadowing, informational interviewing, and possibly a brief hands-on experience. The goal of an externship is to provide students with additional insights into a specific career.

Feature on our Blog

Encourage corporate to be featured on our Blog. Whether one is keen to be featured in an employer spotlight or be a guest writer blogging about career insights and industry-focused best practices, we want them.

Be an Employer in Residence

Promoting "Be an Employer in Residence" where students will have the opportunity to spend one-on-one time with participating employers to ask other career-related questions that may not directly relate to that employer's organization/company, e.g., resume critiques, interview tips, how to ask for informational interviews and other areas of interest. This will be their time with an employer.

There is no better way to gain employer insight on "awkward" questions you have about career paths, company culture, answering challenging questions without fumbling for an answer.

Be a Mentor

We will encourage corporate leaders to get involved with students by volunteering to be Mentors. Students want to learn firsthand from professionals in their career fields of interest. These experiential learning opportunities are highly valued as they allow students to learn about careers and industries in a deeper and more meaningful way. These connections could involve a range of activities, including an informational interview, job shadowing, site visits, and resume reviews, mock interviews, or sharing your professional knowledge and experience. The commitment can be as little as one hour a semester, working with just one student or more than one student at a time.

Internally, we are establishing a Career Advisory Centre which will assume a different hat altogether so that students come more handshake away. This will be followed up by the establishment of a Centre of Excellence for Industry Linkages.

Tutelage

Our campus is abuzz with several departments working in tandem with each other. Also, we have several projects going on ranging from infrastructure development to routine facilities management, mess operations, marketing & communication etc.

When young graduates step into the professional world, the expectation will be to deliver with little or no gestation period. Their managers will expect them to be well learned and hands-on. To deliver their future roles in a professional career(s), in addition to earning a degree, it is expected of graduates to have in-depth and detailed knowledge and understanding of the fundamental aspects without which no department can work at an optimum level and no project can be delivered in a timely fashion. They need to learn how to manage manpower, machine, and finances while delivering expertise.

To get these students (in small batches) involved in understanding fundamentals and intricacies of facilities management, HR process, Recruitment, Marketing & Communication, Sales, Finance, Accounts, Customer Services, Education Delivery, Personnel Management, Purchase, Inventory, Record Keeping, Cafeteria Operations, Security & Vigilance, Filing, Archiving, Environment Conservation, Biochemistry, Forensic Science, Microbiology, Pharmacology, Pathology, etc. The students will need to invest time on live projects along with our multi-disciplinary teams to acquire these competencies which the cruel professional world will not allow them time for.

The program is titled "TUTELAGE" and is conducted under the aegis of CRC in collaboration with all faculties (including Commerce & Management) across the university.
